South Church Honors Pastor

Weeks of secret planning went into the preparation of a "This Is Your Life" program presented Friday in observance of Rev. Frederick Noss' 35th year of association with South Congregational Church.

A total of 29 relatives, friends and associates were assembled and introduced as the story of the minister's life unfolded.

Dr. William V. Emmons was master of ceremonies and chairman of the committee for the celebration which followed the serving of the church's Harvest Supper. On Emmons' committee were Mrs. Austin Anderson, Mrs. C. Edward Buchan, Miss Mabel Marshall, Mrs. Joseph Tavern, Mrs. William V. Emmons, Robert Look and Walter Partridge.

One highlight of the production was a three-way telephone conversation between Rev. Noss and two absent daughters, Mrs. Rudolph Mutter of Westport, Conn. and Mrs. J. Blake Howe, Seattle.

News Capsules

● Raytheon Co. employment at its local Hawk plant will be 4,750 effective Friday, the last work day of October, according to an official count. This is down about 125 from that of last week, and almost 600 under the figure reported by the Townsman in its Oct. 1 issue. It is rumored, but unconfirmed, that the company will level employment at 3,000.

● The Board of Selectmen, over the Manager's recommendation, voted Monday to delay action on Sidney P. White's request for permission to operate a gravel

DPW Civil Service Local Ballot Issue

In an "emergency" meeting Wednesday (too late for Townsman presses), the Town Employees Assoc. met to approve a draft of its official reaction to Manager Richard Bowen's proposal for a municipally administered classification and pay plan.

Indications were that the association would rebuff Bowen, announcing its full support for the ballot drive of Andover public works employees to come under state Civil Service Law, Question 8 on Tuesday's ballot asks for voter approval of the PWD request.

VOTE TUESDAY

Polls in Andover's six election precincts will open at 7 a.m. Tuesday and remain open for polling until 7 p.m.

Giles Moves On Main St. Again

C. Lincoln Giles, contractor, announced Wednesday that he will begin work immediately on a small restaurant-apartment complex on Main St. in the area of the former Tye Rubber Co. warehouse. The total project cost: approximately $1 million.

Giles said that he confirmed late Tuesday that the Friendly Ice Cream Co., which operates a chain of ice cream shops in the Springfield area, will open a Colonial-styled luncheon shop here.

Two Pearson St. houses are to be leveled for construction of the retail outlet, Giles said. The razing is to begin immediately and the sandwich-ice cream shop should be open in two to three months, he said.

Friendly operates 91 shops in Connecticut and Massachusetts, has 10 locations nearing completion and 20 more in the planning for 1965, according to a company

At present, town police, fire and welfare department employees are covered by Massachusetts Civil Service regulations. Also included: the sealer of weights and measures and the plumbing inspector.

Last week Manager Bowen asked, in effect, that town employees hold off on any further moves for state civil service coverage until they can have a look at what he has in mind as a local merit system. The Special Town Meeting Oct. 19 approved the expenditure of $3,500 for a set of updated classification and compensation plans.

Question 8 is on the ballot at the request of an undertermined number of public works employees. At present the department employs 53.

The legislative act which, with town approval, would legalize civil service coverage for the employees of the PW department was submitted by Rep. Arthur Williams at the request of Derosier, acting for the measure's proponents.

DID NYLON STOCKINGS COST LESS WHEN MOM WAS A GIRL?

Any woman knows better. A generation ago Nylon hose hadn't been invented. You couldn't buy them at any price.

The same is true of today's medicines. It isn't logical to say, "Prescriptions cost more than they used to." Most of today's drugs weren't available at any price 10 or 20 years ago. In fact, three quarters of the prescriptions written today, are for drugs that didn't exist ten years ago.

Brook Project At Standstill

Barring an unexpected surplus in state DPW funds, the second stage of Rogers Brook improvements is off until 1965.

Rep. Arthur Williams has been notified by Francis Sargent, associate commissioner of the DPW, that funds have not been appropriated to cover certain projects planned, among them the work on Rogers Brook. Sargent said that it has been the commission's intention to extend brook improvements to Whittier St. this coming spring.

Now, unless there should be an uncommitted balance from projects approved this year, Andover cannot look forward to an appropriation for the brook before 1965.

Q. Which one's the Spitfire? A. Both!

One, undoubtedly, is England's famous World War II fighter plane. The car, of course, is the all-new '64 TRIUMPH SPITFIRE... the sports car that lives up to its illustrious name... 50 MPH in 12 seconds... top speed over 90... rack-and-pinion steering... short turning radius of 24 feet. And, you just won't find another sports car priced anywhere near $2199 with roll-up windows, disc brakes and all-around independent suspension. No doubt about it... nothing else looks or performs like the Spitfire.

A condition which finds a person suddenly unable to stay awake is known as narcolepsy, meaning seized with sleep.

People so afflicted drop off suddenly, often without preliminary drowsiness, and despite a normal night's rest. The period of sleep is not long, usually one to five minutes, sometimes longer and there are likely to be many such periods during the day.

It is believed in some quarters that narcolepsy is born of emotional insecurity, anxiety, or rebellion toward a pattern of life not of the individual's choosing. It is, in short, a defense mechanism against coming to grips with problems which the narcoleptic does not choose to face.

However, you can expect wide-awake service at SHAWSHEEN PHARMACY. Prescriptions are a specialty, not a sideline at SHAWSHEEN PHARMACY, Shawheen Square.

Entrance Exams Set At Academy

All candidates for day student openings at Phillips Academy for September, 1965 must write the Secondary School Admission Tests in the Educational Testing Service which will be given in Andover Dec. 12.

Applications for the tests must reach the testing service before Nov. 30 on a form which is available at the Academy's admissions office. To meet these deadlines, candidates must make application to the academy before Thanksgiving. All interviews must be scheduled and completed by Dec. 15.

The academy grants admission each year to a limited number of qualified day students from the Greater Lawrence area.

Selection is competitive and is based on character, personality, breadth of interest, academic achievement and promise as measured by the candidate's academic and general record. In addition, a personal interview and the results of the Secondary School Admission Tests are important. Scholarships, based on need, are available for successful candidates.

All inquiries should be addressed to the Admissions Office, Phillips Academy.

Farm Census Visits
Beginning Nov. 9
Plans for taking the 1964 Census of Agriculture in Essex County were announced today by Mrs. Phyllis Stoddard, Boxford, newly-appointed census crew leader for the county.

The job will be done in three stages, the crew leader said. First will come recruitment and training of enumerators to count all farms in the county. About one enumerator for each 150 farms will be needed.

Shortly after Nov. 5, the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U. S. Department of Commerce, will start the second stage by mailing agricultural census questionnaires to all rural boxholders in the county. This will give farm operators, who are required by law to fill out the forms, a period of time to consult their records and fill in answers to the questions.

In the final stage, enumerators will visit each farm in the county to collect the questionnaires. At the time of this visit, the enumerators will help farmers complete answers to any questions they may have had difficulty with. Enumerator visits are scheduled to begin in this county on Nov. 9. It will take about three weeks to complete their work, the crew leader estimates.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in the years ending in "4" and "9" to gather up-to-date information on the nation's agricultural resources and production.

Arguments For: A two-year term is too short to learn the job, develop a program and carry it out. First year spent becoming oriented; second, getting re-elected.

Arguments Against: A four-year term is too long if incumbent is incompetent or a bad governor.

Effective Date: Four-year terms will be served by officials elected in 1966, if a majority of those voting on the Question approve it.

QUESTION NO. 2 Government Continuity in Enemy Attack

At Issue: Broad power for the Legislature, permitting it to adopt measures to guarantee continuity of state government in time of disaster resulting from enemy attack.

Question's Origin: Constitutional Amendment recommended by Governor Volpe in 1962. Approved unanimously by Legislature in 1962 and 1963.

Arguments For: Needed to insure minimum disruption of important governmental functions in event of enemy attack. In line with U. S.

Continuity of Government Program.

Arguments Against: Unnecessary in Massachusetts where the constitution provides for prompt succession.

Effective Date: Immediately approved by a majority of those voting on the Question.

QUESTION NO. 3 Pledging of Credit of the State

At Issue: A requirement that the state's credit cannot be pledged except by a 2/3 vote of each branch of the Legislature. The present restriction against state backing for private transactions would remain intact.

Question's Origin: Constitutional Amendment filed by Senator Philip A. Graham. Approved almost unanimously by Legislature in 1961 and 1963.

Arguments For: Closes loopholes through which Legislature may pledge State's credit with a majority vote while being required to obtain a 2/3 vote on State bond issues.

Arguments Against: Could block "authority" programs, holding up construction of dormitories for institutions of higher learning, state financial backing for Mass. Bay Transportation Authority bond issues, etc.

Effective Date: Immediately approved by a majority of those voting on the Question.

QUESTION NO. 4 Advisory Opinions by Supreme Court

At Issue: A proposal to permit the Governor and Council to seek advisory opinions from Justices of the State Supreme Court independently of one another. The must now act jointly.

Question's Source: Constitutional Amendment proposed by Rep. Gregory B. Khachadorian, Arlington. Approved overwhelmingly by Legislature in 1962 and 1963.

Arguments For: Would prevent stalemates (which have occurred) when governor is of one party and Council of another.

Arguments Against: Puts court in position of pre-judging issues that may come before it later, but does not give it benefit of hearing both sides.

QUESTION NO. 5 Statutory Powers of Executive Council

At Issue: Repeal of most of statutory powers of the Council over the Governor's appointments, certain contracts, leases etc. Constitutional powers, including approval of judges and pardons, are unaffected.

Question's Origin: Initiative Petition by Junior Chamber of Commerce

A long look at Phillips Academy debaters, and Judge Frederick Allis decided their appearance supported their contention that "America the Beautiful" is no longer fully descriptive of life in or of the countryside of the U.S. Debating with Abbot Academy girls, the Phillips team countered statements about beautiful falls, ideals and coastlines with comments on roadside advertising, political and social decay.

As for beautiful streams, the boys used the Merrimack River as a negative example, stating that "it is so polluted that any PA boy who falls in must remain under observation at Isham Infirmary for 24 hours."

How Not To Compare Apples & Oranges

The other day, a woman took us to task for "overcharging" her.

She had been buying slivered almonds from our nut rack for 49 cents. But in her hands was a "look-alike" package of slivered almonds bought at a discount store; some brand, some printed price (49 cents), but hand stamped 45 cents - four cents less.

When we read the weight, we caught the significant difference: ours weighed 3 3/8 ounces; the other, only three ounces!

The "discount" almonds sold for 15 cents per ounce. Our slide rule told us that ours sold for only 14 1/2 cents per ounce. Ours was clearly the better buy!

What does this prove? If you shop like a professional buyer, take plenty of time, read all the fine print, are fast on the gazintas, you can find some good buys at discount stores. But if you want some peace of mind as you shop, you'll find it in a store in which you have confidence.

Get Informed, Then Vote

Any red blooded American who can walk into a polling place on Tuesday and shut himself away for the few minutes it takes to mark a ballot without feeling a surge of pride and patriotism is too far removed from the traditions of this country to deserve its bounty.

And any citizen who feels virtuous on election day just because he pulls the curtain on a voting booth and makes the required number of X's, is as ineffective a citizen as the Sunday Christian is a church member. If he votes without having given some time and thought to the issues, he is cheating himself and his countrymen.

Get-out-the vote campaigns are nothing new, but the recent emphasis on getting voters informed before getting them out is safer and saner.

It is true that government "of and by the people" is more intricate than it was when the U.S. brand of democracy was born, but it is also true that communications are better. Few if any, who attempt to become informed will succeed in toto. The sheer volume and complexity of information to be digested prevents it.

But the odds are with the man who tries, and chances are (since he is a member of the best educated electorate in history) his judgment will at least be comparable in quality to that of citizens in earlier generations.

The important thing now, five days before the election is that each man realize the potential significance of his vote while there is still time to add to his understanding of the issues — and still time to rid himself of the notion that one vote more or less won't make any difference this year.

One vote can be the decisive difference.

In 1962, less than three votes in each of the 2,011 precincts elected this state's present governor.

One vote more, per Illinois precinct, would have given that state's 26 electoral votes to the Republicans in 1960 and changed the election for the nation.

In 1962, less than one voter in each of Maine's 631 voting precincts elected the governor by a majority of 483 votes.

One vote in each of New York's 11,139 election districts elected the governor in 1954. He won by 11,125 votes.

One vote in the 1959 race for mayor in Oklahoma City decided the contest with the winner receiving 9,571 and the loser, 9,570.

One vote would have elected a representative to the state legislature in Pennsylvania in 1954. As it was, a tie vote resulted in the drawing of lots as provided for in the state's election code.

These and other statistics are proof positive that what you do on election day does make a difference.

Ho Hum

Just one comment on Town Meeting, that tedious undertaking by which fewer than 2,000 of the town's citizens participated in a $3.9 million decision.

(The high school they voted to construct will hold almost as many students as the Junior High School auditorium held voters on Oct. 19.)

By March, it is hoped that Moderator Charles Hatch will have devised some method, within his authority, for preventing a repeat of the monotonous, repetitious event that was this latest effort in the democratic process.

Some suggestions:

A limit to the length of debate pertaining to a single article.

Time limits for speakers, official and unofficial.

A restriction that would hold each official body to representation by one spokesman, unless minority reports are offered.

Installation of roving mikes to speed the introduction of floor speakers.

Some further tampering with tradition might lead to cutting down on the array of public officials seated on the stage, eliminating some of the panel-discussion aspects of Town Meeting.

Every Town Meeting is ritual proof that no matter how much opportunity the townspeople have to become informed in advance, a high percentage of those who turn out will need to be educated on the spot. Whatever legal, procedural changes can be made should be made to shave the time required for this process.

Those who resist any change in the format would do well to consider the possible alternative to a vital and productive Town Meeting: the demise of an institution.

Probable cause of death: boredom.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — October, 1889

The funeral services over the remains of Francis B. Holt was held at his late home Saturday afternoon, there being present a large number of family and friends.

Dr. Daniels and his lightning tooth extractor and his specialty company, who have been at Lawrence three weeks, appeared at Town Hall last evening before a fair sized audience. Only one from the audience mustered courage to go on the stage and have a tooth pulled, but the Doctor proved his reputation by removing it without pain.

The cellar is being dug on Abbott St. and a foundation to be put in by John McCarthy, for the main part of the South Hall, Abbot Academy.

(Re: work on Andover's first waterworks) Amusing and interesting is the scene enacted daily at noon, in which a wheelbarrow laden with steaming food and dishes trundled by "mine host" Toomey of that famous working men's hostelry, plays the most prominent part. By means of hot cloths, rapid transit and the landlord's vigorous service, the men seem to fare sumptuously.

William Poor has finished this week a new butcher wagon for Davis & Sargent of South Acton. This is the second wagon that Poor has furnished the same parties within a month.

50 Years Ago — October, 1914

Through the courtesy of the Democratic Town Committee, a representative of equal suffrage was given a place on the program at the rally held in the town hall on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Thomas Pelham Curtis came out from Boston and was given a cordial reception by a good-sized audience.

Miss Mary Burns, 96 Poor St., Frye Village, had a gold mesh bag containing a small sum of money, and a pair of amethyst rosary beads snatched out of her hand at the corner of South Broadway and Mt. Vernon St. by a thief alleged to be 14 years old.

All persons having snow ploughs or other means of breaking out roads in winter which are the property of the Town of Andover, please notify the superintendent at once.

Fifty years of married life were celebrated Oct. 28 by Mr. and Mrs. Adam S. Lindsay of Washington Ave.

Andover's telephone exchange was cut over last Sunday. The ring-up is eliminated.

25 Years Ago — October, 1939

A special Town Meeting seems a probability as a number of the residents of West Andover are facing an acute situation caused by the drying up of their wells because of the dry spell. At present a number of them are carrying water to their farms from the dead-end on Chandler Rd. at Garabedian's. They will petition for an extension of town water.

The Andover Red Cross is making clothing for Polish refugees with the cooperation of church, society, school and other groups.

The Andover League of Women Voters will give a tea for new members Oct. 31 at the home of Mrs. Horace M. Poynter, School St.

William Franklin Buchan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Euchar of Prospect Hill Rd., has enrolled in the U. S. Navy as an apprentice seaman.

The 20th anniversary of Clan Johnston Auxiliary's affiliation with the Grand Lodge was marked Thursday with a supper and entertainment.

Mrs. Irving Piper was hostess at a personal shower last week in honor of Miss Evelyn Griffiths of Lawrence.

10 Years Ago — October, 1954

The sum of $1,047.50 was collected by Punched students in the recent membership drive of the Boosters Club, according to Charles O. McCullom, chairman.

Supt. Edward I. Erickson has been informed that under the Agricultural Act of 1954 federal funds have been appropriated to support a supplementary milk program which will allow the schools to offer each child as much milk as he desires at the low price of four cents a half pint.

The Tuesday Club of Andover observed its 50th Anniversary last week at Rolling Ridge with a special program and a list of special guests which included the founder and first president, Miss Alice Jenkins.

Chester W. Holland, retiring vice president of the Andover National Bank was honored guest at a testimonial dinner. He started as a cashier with the bank in 1912.

The Red Cross had expenses of about $190 in connection with the recent hurricanes.

Dr. Theodore Galati of Main St. will describe his own escape from persecution in Europe at a meeting of the Andover Catholic Club.

Oct. 22 — Haverhill St., Accidental Alarm, Hardy Brush Co.

To the Editor of the Townsman: "As this reader sat in the assembly of our Town Meeting of October 19 and listened to the reading of the articles and the statements of all official town committees, and unofficial groups in this assembly his thoughts turned to our forefathers and their experiences in this most basic democratic process.

"In the late 1600's voting was compulsory and failure to attend a legally notified meeting meant the forfeiture of six-pence. What was the number present here tonight, he thought?

"Realizing the importance of the matters before the town, no citizen could depart without permission until the meeting was dissolved. How many people had legitimate reason for leaving tonight he mused, and in the eyes of our forefathers would permission be granted?

"Another measure which showed our forefathers' good sense, helped to check the flow of eloquence and stated that 'if any man shall speak in the town meeting while anything of town affairs is either in voting or agitation after ye moderator hath commanded

Symphony Opens Season Nov. 8

The Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra will open its 1964 season with Offenbach's familiar Helen of Troy Overture, appearing at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 8 in George Washington Hall at Phillips Academy.

Joseph A. Ierardi will conduct a full symphonic orchestra of 85 musicians.

It will follow Offenbach with the haunting strains of Ravel's Bolero, exploiting the work of the principal members of the orchestra in its theme.

The first half of the program will conclude with the presentation of Mendelssohn's Piano Concerto #1, Opus 25, Miss Mildred Moore, Soloist. Miss Moore is remembered for her performances with the Boston Symphony Orchestra and the New England Conservatory Orchestra. She is presently a member of the faculty of the Andover School system.

After a short intermission, the Orchestra will begin with Mozart's Ave Verum Corpus dedicated to the memory of the late Robert W. Jeffreys, a charter member of the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Society and its treasurer. Following this memorial, the Orchestra will present the familiar Beethoven's Fifth Symphony in its entirety. The program will conclude with the Oberon Overture by Weber.

Tickets for this concert and the rest of the season may be secured by writing to the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Society, Post Office Box 410, Andover, Mass., 01810, or at the box office the afternoon of the concert.

Chamber Defers Planner Action

The Andover Chamber of Commerce will hold off hiring a professional park planner to design Andover Recreation Park, deferring to the request of Town Manager Richard Bowen.

Bowen has asked for time which would permit him to become better acquainted with the overall problems and needs of Andover, according to A. D. MacLaren, chamber president.

The manager also told the chamber that he favors the use of "time and energy" in improving the physical condition of Andover's present playgrounds before involvement with any large expenditures of time and money at the new park.

MacLaren said the chamber will reconsider the planner proposal when the manager feels one would be beneficial for the best interest of the town.

Phillips Paper Supports LBJ

The Phillippian, Phillips Academy student publication, announced in the Oct. 21 issue its "reluctant" support of President Lyndon Johnson's campaign for re-election.

A Phillippian editorial stated: "We don't believe that Johnson is a great president, but we do believe he is the better of the two candidates. His policy of big government with Lyndon Johnson pulling all the strings goes against the traditional American ideals of individual freedom and limited government. Yet he is a highly capable politician."

The paper called Senator Barry Goldwater's tendency to consider the Communist bloc as a solid unit, ignoring the Sino-Soviet split as "foolish."

It announced opposition to Johnson's Medicare program, the Appalachian program and the War on Poverty. "All three provide unnecessary government control in daily American life," the editorial said.

Goldwater, however, "takes such a completely negative approach toward America's social problems" that the newspaper concluded "Johnson deserves the chance to prove himself."

Phillips students will participate in a mock presidential election prior to Nov. 3.

If you're going in circles, maybe you're cutting too many corners.

It is fine to believe in ourselves, but don't be too easily convinced. The best excuse is the one you never make.

Water Use Creeps Up, Within Danger Limits

(A Townsman News Feature)

If Andover residents keep on washing and shampooing and scrubbing and bathing at their present rate, this town is going to have a first rate water problem by 1967.

Right now it develops and stores too little water to satisfy the exacting standards of the New England Fire Underwriters Assoc.; the reservoir that supplies the central business, manufacturing and residential district is considered deficient by at least three million gallons.

But Andover should never have to drink the dregs. Water Superintendent Donald C. Bassett has at the ready some long-considered plans for developing a source which will add daily one million gallons of high "potable" (drinkable) water to the town's supply.

He has plotted ahead, with Consultants Camp, Dresser & McKee, because he has watched Andover's daily water consumption creep up 100,000 gallons annually.

This concern is timely, and shows advanced municipal thinking on what is considered in Washington a problem of growing national import.

Congressman F. Bradford Morse reported this fall that a major study on national water resources predicts that many sections of the U. S. face a situation where water needs exceed water resources if existing use continues.

With the realization that growing population, expanding industry, and increasing urbanization tax limited water supplies severely, Congress this year launched a major effort to expand knowledge in this field with enactment of the Water Resources Research Act of 1964.

This measure calls for grants for development of water resources centers at colleges and universities, and Morse has suggested that such a center be opened at Lowell Technological Institute largely because of its location on the Merrimack River.

The New Englander magazine, spokesman for the New England Council, has shown equal interest in the water problem, suggesting that one research center be established to take a regional approach to solving the water problems of the six-state area.

Congress' act authorizes the expenditure of $100,000 per state and it is the Council's reasoning that a pool of $600,000 would go further in serving long-range regional interests.

The Local Situation

Andover draws water from four sources:

- 1) Haggett's Pond which provides 1,500,000 gallons per day.
- 2) The Abbot Well, which produces 300,000 gallons daily.
- 3) The Ballardvale #2 well

CIVIL SERVICE IS

Though the act covers all who are employed in the Public Works Department, supervisory and office personnel were not included with those briefed on provisions of Civil Service when a representative of the state office was brought to Andover for that purpose.

Quizzed this week, department officials said that if employees were seeking Civil Service protection as a means to correcting any specific pay or working conditions, they were not aware of it. Asked if job security could be an issue, they reported that only one DPW employee has been fired in 33 years.

Manager Bowen added that he considers working conditions for public works employees here far superior to those he has observed in several other communities.

If approved Tuesday, the Civil Service measure will not mean any automatic pay raises. Bowen feels this is certain to become an issue later, however.

Approval, in the manager's opinion, will not mean that DPW employees will work outside the provisions of a local merit system for personnel, if one is set up.

The Civil Service act would require that supervisory staff in the department would have to take qualifying examinations, and score at least 70 percent in order to continue with their positions. Covered would be water and highway superintendents, the office manager and engineer.

Memorial Cross To Be Dedicated

Sunday a wooden Memorial Cross, designed and crafted by a Phillips Academy staff member, will be dedicated to the late Donald L. Amy, organist at Free Christian Church from 1946 until 1964.

The gift of the cross to the church has been made possible by members of the senior choir who sang under Amy's direction, and by numerous other friends.

It is the work of Robert A. Lloyd, designer and craftsman. Born in Little Cooley, Pa., Amy was a graduate of Warren Conservatory in Pennsylvania and did graduate work at Theil College, Greenville, Pa.

He was a member of the American Guild of Organists, the Greater Lawrence Piano Teachers Assoc., Methuen Memorial Hall and the Andover Historical Society.

At the time of his death last March, Mr. Amy had lived in Andover 19 years.

Miss Maria Todt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johann Todt, 100 Main St., became the bride of R. David Hoskison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hoskison of Unity, New Hampshire, Oct. 10 at 6 p.m. in the church, Andover.

Rev. Frederick B. Noss officiated at the double-ring, candle-light ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Baskets of white mums decorated the altar.

The bride was attired in a white organza over white satin gown with a scoop neckline, long sleeves, a fitted bodice and a panel of embroidered organza at the front. The full chapel train was brought up into a bustle. She wore a triple-tiered veil of tulle and a white pill box adorned with white satin roses to match her gown. She carried a cascade of white roses centered with white orchid corsage trimmings of phanotis and ivy.

Miss M. Jayne Britton, the honor, wore a floor-length gold brocade taffeta styled bodice, scoop neckline, long sleeves and bustle. She carried a short pouf veil with a gold cabbage rose with a white ribbon. She carried a cascade of fall colored mums with gold streamers.

For her daughter's wedding she wore a peacock blue dress with a light chiffon over satin and a boning of pink sweetheart ruffles. Her brother-in-law, the groom, wore a tuxedo. The ushers were Mr. and Mrs. Hoskison of Unity, N.H., and Mr. and Mrs. Geroge Prall of Andover.

Following a wedding trip through New England and the West, Mr. and Mrs. Hoskison will be in Andover.

The bride is a graduate of Andover High School and Bryant School of Boston. She is employed as secretary to Mr. O'Reilly, Andover. Her husband is a graduate of Andover High School, Windsor, Vermont, and is employed as tool and die maker at the Shield, Inc., Lawrence.

servoir, stores 1 million gallons; the two reservoirs in the East-High or Prospect Hill service hold a total of 1,300,000 million gallons; and the Bancroft, or Low-Service reservoir, stores 1,565,000 gallons.

Of particular concern is the storage capacity of the Bancroft reservoir, because from this water bank would have to come the fire-fighting water for any major holocaust in the business manufacturing or central residential area. And in a season of serious drought, there are days when it is doubtful that this reservoir would have enough on tap to provide the necessary protection.

682-1372

Andover, Massachusetts Population and Water Consumption Trends

ANDOVER'S WATER CONSUMPTION HABITS lead to the projections on this chart, part of studies done in preparation for plans to head off any dangerous shortage. So far, all projections are running a fraction under actual usage.

It was estimated as long ago as 1959 that it would take storage of 2,400,000 gallons to supply adequate fire flow for the area serviced by Bancroft. Another 600,000 gallons should be on hand to cover hourly variations in the water levels, and a minimum of 1,500,000 should be earmarked "emergency storage." This makes the present reservoir just about 3,000,000 gallons deficient. The town has land and could buttress this storage with another facility of equal capacity. But Don Bassett will recommend, and has recommended, that a new, 6,000,000 gallon enclosed reservoir would serve the town better in the long run. "When you mix ground and surface water (as we do in the open Bancroft reservoir) you aggravate algae and other purification problems," Bassett says. A concrete vault is the solution, he thinks.

A New Source
For new water, Bassett proposes that we trap the many trickles that run into Fish Brook, and ultimately into the Merrimack River. By damming Fish Brook at its mouth and feeding the water salvaged back into Haggitt's Pond, Bassett estimated we can add a million gallons a day to the supply. On this he is at odds with the Central Merrimack Valley Planning Commission which takes the position that Andover should join in a valley plan to draw water from the Merrimack and purify it centrally.

Bassett says the commission estimates Andover can save $1 million in capital expenditures with this system. But, he says, they are not counting the cost of laying lines from the central purification center into the existing Andover system, all of which is laid out with Haggitt's Pond as a focal point.

The water superintendent admits that even Andover will have to go to the Merrimack for water eventually, when depends on whether or not the town expands or contracts industrially - and upon whether or not the tax situation stimulates or curtails home construction.

But when we do have to fall back on the mighty Merrimack, we will do it when the old river is at its best, says Bassett. Fish Brook Dam and Haggitt's storage capacity will permit the town to take from the river when the water is purest and hold it for partial cleansing in the fresh air and sun.

Why Fish Brook

Why Fish Brook, and not the Shawheen River, for example? Bassett reports that thorough engineering studies show that there is no other supply available to Andover that will produce what Fish Brook can... no more wells rich enough, and certainly not the Shawheen. Even if use of the Shawheen seemed practical, the net gain to Andover would be diminished by the fact that industries now using that supply would have to revert to use of town water.

Some companies, Raytheon among them, have a considerable investment in equipment to make use of the Shawheen which has served to postpone further aggravation of the town water situation, according to the superintendent.

Both Bassett and Town Manager Richard Bowen are determined that Andover will not wait for another drought crises like that of 1957 before it takes action to provide for the town's water future.

Says Bowen: "The two most serious problems that will be faced by my children and their children are the problems of water supply and air pollution." Advanced planning on the Fish Brook project is underway, financed by a federal grant of just under $50,000.

Through an assist program, the U. S. government provides money for an engineering study, designs and specifications so that the town will have detailed information when it comes time to appropriate for the project.

LOCAL GIRL IN RIDING GYM KANA

Miss Karla E. M. Haartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Haartz of 60 High Plain Rd., was one of eight girls who won prizes at a recent gymkana held at the Mount Holyoke College riding stables.

Miss Haartz, a sophomore, was on the winning team in the Serpentine Relay race, an event for which competitors are required to weave in and out around jump standards.

She placed second in a tri-horse competition.

After The Game

School is back in session, bringing with it football, basketball and field hockey games. The games prove to be exciting, the air is crisp, and the leaves are golden brown. When the game is over, the gang is quite thrilled over winning the match and extra hungry.

Just hop into your car and come on down to McDonald's Drive In., 195 North Main Street, Andover. Order all the hamburgers you can eat for only 15¢ each! Top it off with hot, crisp French fries and steaming coffee to warm you up from the cold autumn air!

Drive your car into the ample space parking lot. Then order all you want without waiting in long lines. The food is prepared ahead of time, but it is always hot and the tonics and milkshakes are always cold.

Make your next snack, a good one, bought at McDonald's.

H. S. Program, Not Specs In For Overhaul

The School Committee accepted the action of Town Meeting as fait accompli Tuesday, and set out to determine how it can operate a $3,910,000 high school without an auditorium.

Though there was no weakening of position on the majority's consensus that an auditorium should be considered an educational necessity, the committee agreed to soft-pedal its attitudes in its presentation to the state School Building Assistance Commission. School Building Committeeman Benjamin Chase warned that any letter which gives the impression that the School Committee has backed down on its auditorium stand simply because the town refused to pay for it could create a stalemate with the building commission.

The state assistance organization agrees to 40 percent state aid when it is satisfied that buildings proposed meet the educational specifications drawn by community school committees.

School Committeemen were unwilling to knock the auditorium out of specifications, but they will present an educational program (now being drafted by administrators) which can be considered "adequate" until an addition is to be considered to the new building in five to seven years. It is their attitude that the auditorium has simply been deferred to that date. Chase told the committee that the architects would like space details to be ironed out in advance of a Friday meeting so that they can resolve the shape of the building. It is hoped that this can be done in time to permit rough site preparation this fall, he said. In the discussion William Doherty proposed that the plans be submitted to contractors in such a way that bids can be taken on the school with and without select items, i.e. conference rooms. His idea was to see how much or how little could be included, using top quality materials, for the money available. The rest of the committee vetoed the possibility of any further compromises with the specifications.

Robert Sherman raised the question of whether or not certain alterations should be made to adapt the gym and large group instruction rooms to handle auditorium-type activities. One suggestion was to install a projection booth and screen in the gym.

Supt. Edward I. Erickson said that he "can't see running too many assemblies in the gym," and that he wouldn't favor a projection booth there. He expressed the opinion that the gym floor shouldn't be used heavily for other than athletic purposes.

Erickson will work with School Principal Philip Wood to prepare for a meeting with the Assistance Commission.
